

Quality Keynotes and Training for Educators

Presented by Dr. James Sutton

Most Popular Keynotes

Don't Lose Your Marbles; Give 'Em Away!

This keynote urges participants to become encouragers of young people. The program has a history of successfully delivering a powerful message wrapped in humor and inspiration.

Crossroads to Greatness- Through a compelling story of three pioneers and their guiding principles, this keynote offers insight for planting these principles in the hearts and minds of our young people today.

Full-day Training

The Oppositional & Defiant Child- This program will take an intensive look at ways of working with the noncompliant and defiant student, focusing on behaviors of procrastination, pouting and stubbornness, obstructionism and forms of intentional inefficiency, such as "forgetting" and chronic episodes of missing or incomplete school work.

The Kid Who Doesn't Care- This program focuses on working with the socially-challenged student. Behaviors like fighting, lying, stealing and destruction of property will be covered, as well as interventions for more effectively managing this youngster.

Support Staff Training- Dr. Sutton also does full-day training for counselors, social workers and school psychologists on topics relating to depression and anxiety, conducting a diagnostic interview and powerful strategies for group counseling.

Half-day Training

The keynote breakout programs listed on the right are half-day (2.5 to 3 hours) training programs also. They have been recently revised and upgraded.

About Dr. Sutton

- Nationally recognized psychologist
- Has taught everything from grade school to graduate school
- Committed to platform excellence (Certified Speaking Professional)
- Clients include 54 universities
- Bestselling author

Add Value; Save Money

Ask about the Keynote with Breakout Package

Breakout programs (about 2 hours) include:

When the Kid Who Can, WON'T- Dr. Sutton addresses the classroom challenges of working with the capable, but difficult, student. There are lots of take-away ideas here.

The Angry Child- Volatile and aggressive youngsters can be a tremendous challenge. This program offers help and hope in reaching the child and improving the behavior!

Addressing Oppositional & Defiant Behavior: Current "Best Practice" Strategies- A program for support staff (counselors, social workers, school psychologists, etc.).

Partial Client List:

Boysville
Brigham Young University
Cal Farley's Boys Ranch
Caring Family Network
Florida State University
Indiana University
Juvenile Justice Association of Michigan
Kentucky Association of Psychologists in the Schools
Louisiana State University
National Association of Children with Learning Disabilities
National Association of Homes for Children
New Mexico Children's Services
Oklahoma School Psychologists' Association
Pennsylvania School Counselors' Association
Penn State University
Syracuse University
Texas Association of School Psychologists
Texas Educational Diagnosticians' Association
Texas Tech University
Universities of Alabama, Arizona, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, North Carolina, Oklahoma and Texas

For more information contact:

T
Dr. James D. Sutton
Pleasanton, Texas
www.docspeak.com

800-659-6628

What others have said:

No way to outclass Dr. Sutton. He holds his audience!
Bob Peterson, San Antonio, Texas

Given the quality of your presentations, I'm not at all surprised that you're in such high demand!
Dean Charles Wilson, PhD, Shreveport, Louisiana

Dr. Sutton was an awesome keynoter! He captivated the conference participants and most certainly touched every heart. I promise, you could have heard a pin drop during his entire presentation. It was amazing!

Debbie Buchanan, Edinburg, Texas